Meadow and Native Lawn

In the backyard a rain garden with bunch grass, blue-eyed grass, and native reeds transitions into a no-mow lawn, and then a more wild meadow of grass and wildflowers, leading and framing the view towards the tree canopy and open sky of the cemetery beyond.

Quiet Space Under Oak

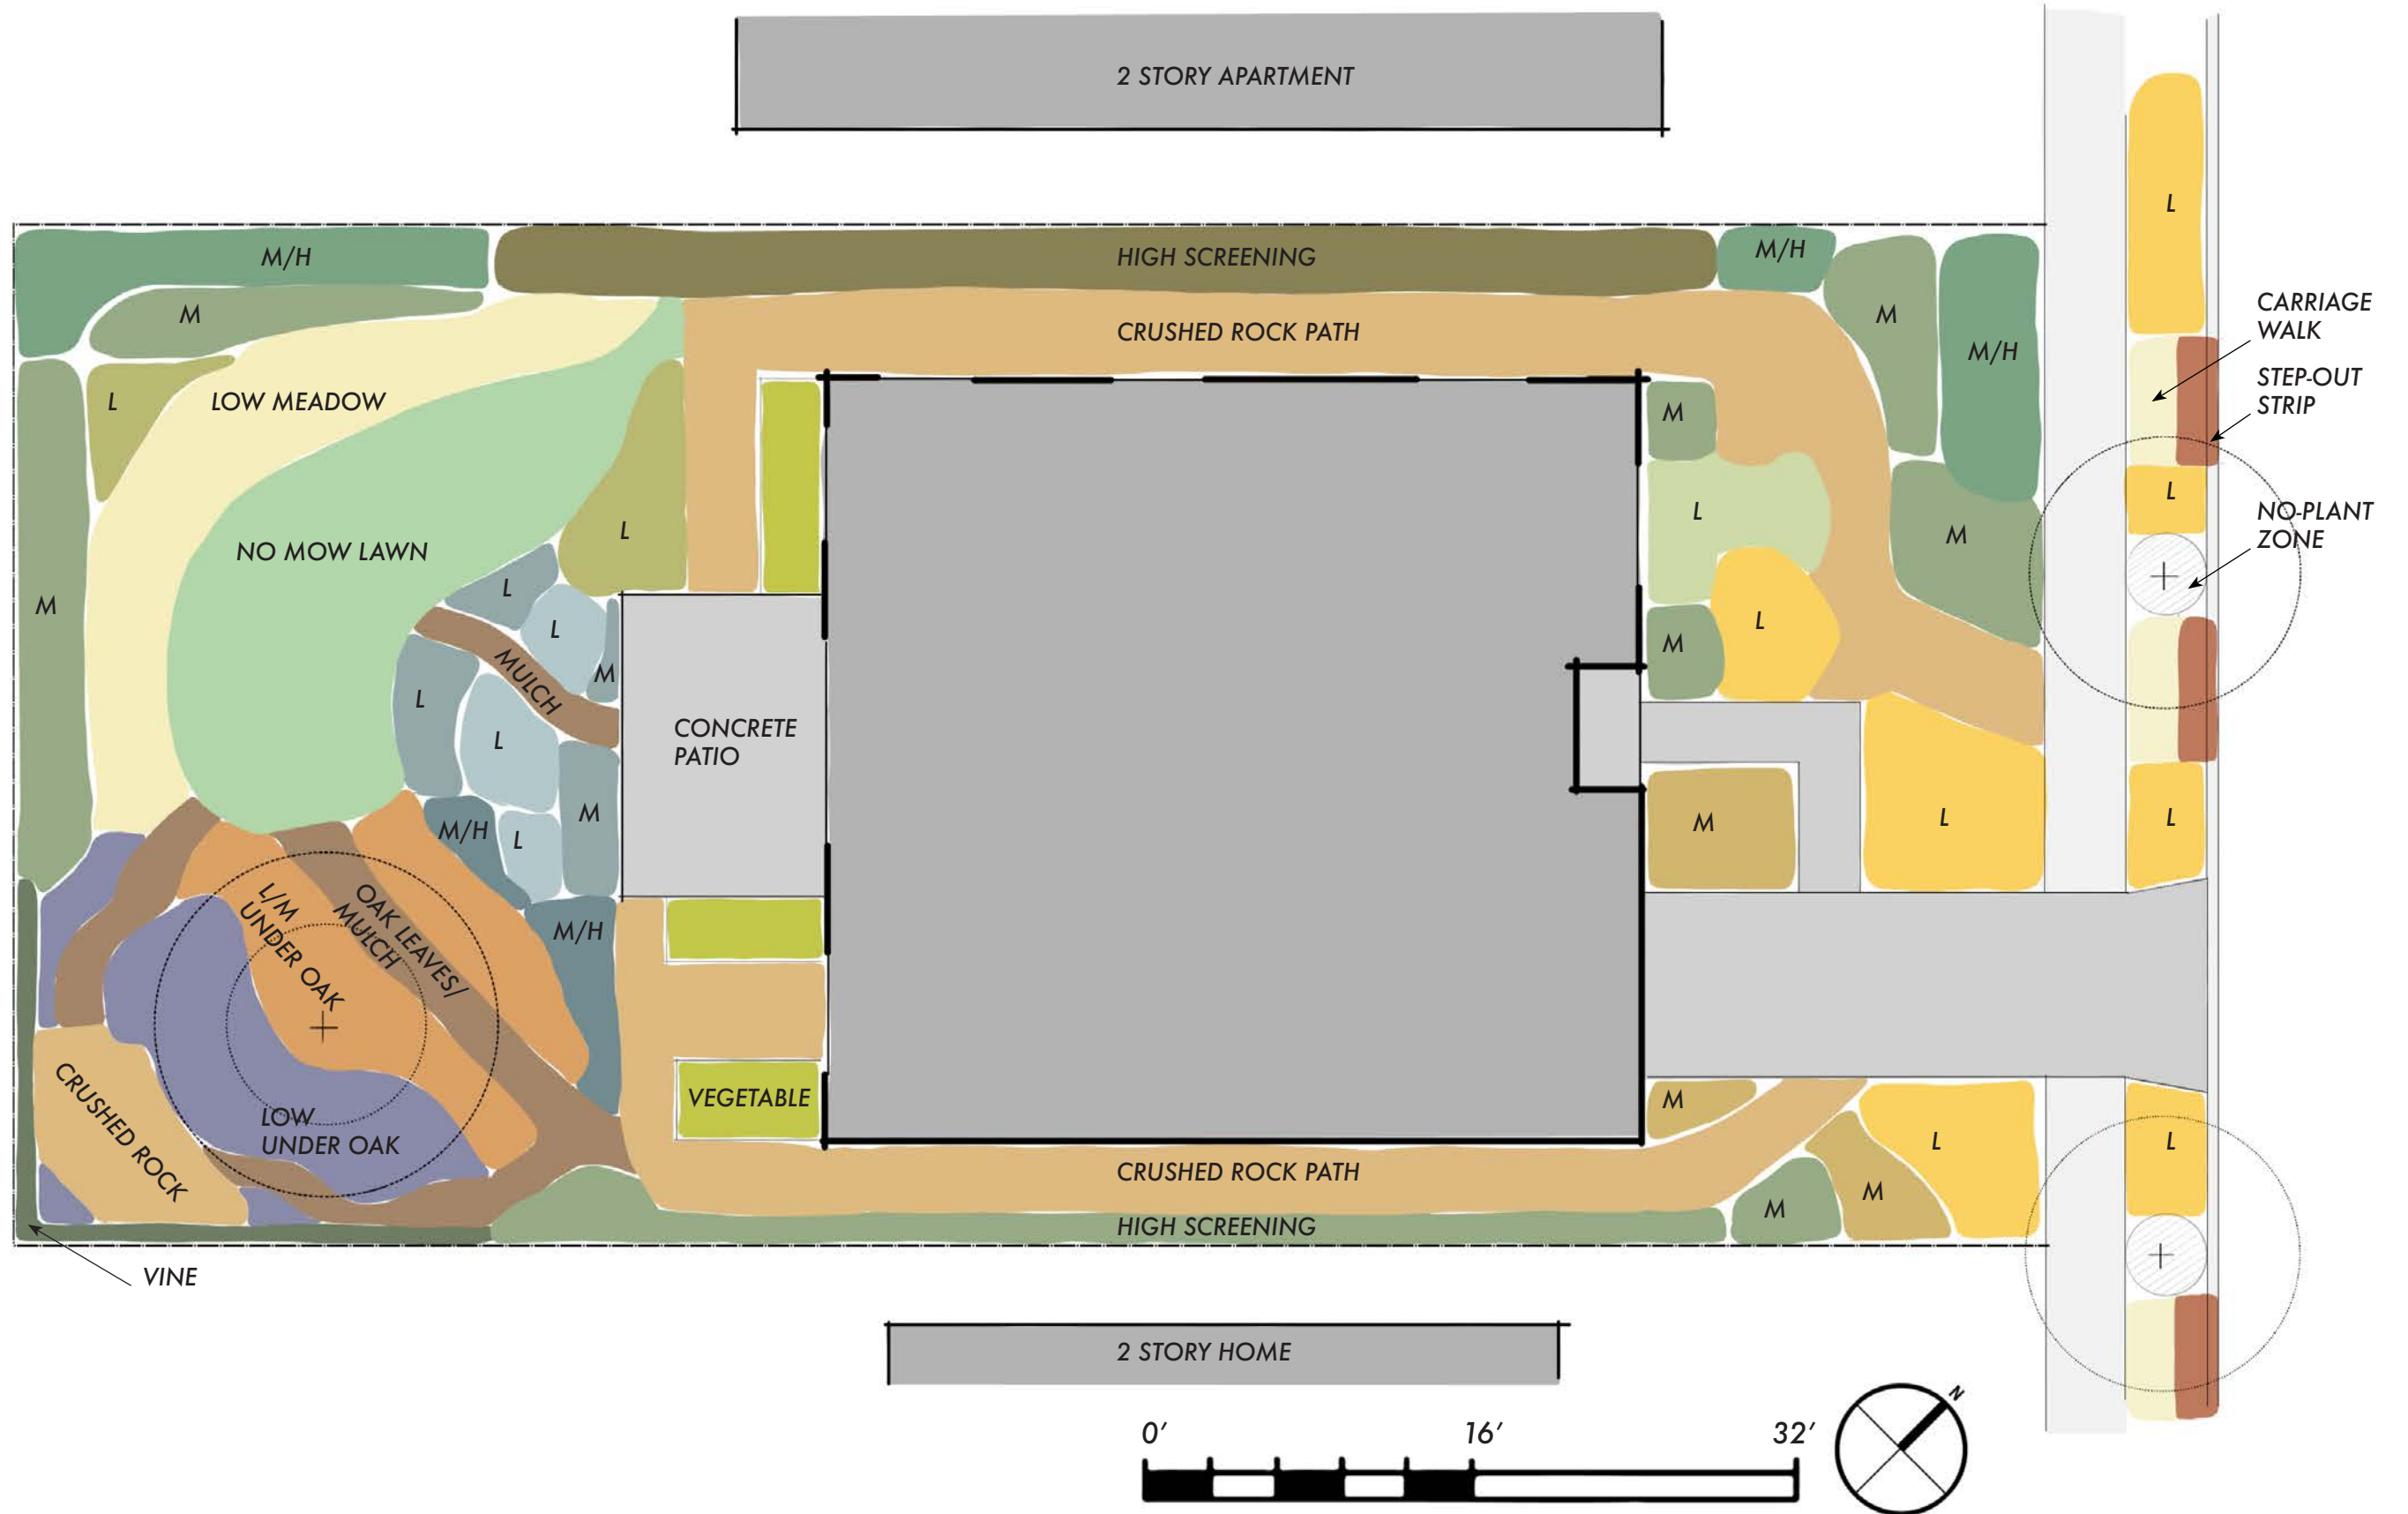

Under the shade of the large oak is a quiet retreat, surrounded by vines climbing the fence and a carpet of Island Alum Root and tall grasses growing in the dry shade. Pathways of mulch and the oak's own dried leaves lead to a soft patio of crushed rock. A hidden place for reading, meditation and yoga.
